

C. G. JUNG ANALYTICAL PSYCHOLOGY CLUB LONDON
APPLICATION FOR MEMBERSHIP

The Club was founded in 1922 by close associates of C G Jung. It continues to this day to keep alive the feeling of community shared by those with experience of a Jungian analysis and to provide a forum for the exploration of Jung's ideas and concepts in a non-professional environment.

Under the terms of our 1987 Constitution Full Members "shall be those who in the considered opinion of the Executive Committee have sufficient analysis and personal experience of analytical psychology, and whom the Committee consider likely to undertake membership with a due sense of responsibility and also to be able to give a reasonable attendance and activity". Those who have not been in a personal analysis may join as Friends of the Club. Friends, who pay full subscription fees, have all the privileges of membership except the right to vote at the Annual General Meeting.

Before applying for membership, we ask that you attend and sign for six meetings or seminars (ten if applying as a Friend of the Club) and it is particularly important that you make yourself known to at least one member of the Executive Committee. Please include a brief curriculum vitae with your application, indicating the nature of your interest in analytical psychology and the extent of your personal experience of it. Members of the IAAP are automatically granted membership on application.

Applications are considered by the Executive Committee in May and November. Membership sub-scription is payable annually on 1 January:

London £25 Country £20 Overseas £10.

The Club is not a training body and membership confers no professional status.
